Distinguished PORTRAIT PAINTER. - M.

W. Gugel, the distinguished portrait painter, resides here.

It will be remembered that the many of our governors were painted by him also many of our citizens. Mr. Gugel was commissioned to paint the full length of ex-President Lincoln, now hanging in the White house at Washington. His ability to portray character and individuality is unequalled everywhere. This is an opportunity rarely offered to get a very good portrait, and those wanting them will do well to avail themselves.

Bath House REPAIRS. - The repairs to the bath house, which was badly damaged in a collision with the steamer Three Sisters some time ago, are nearly finished, and the boys will again be given the liberty of swimming in my house. Mr. Reporter if I could I would wear three ping hats, for we will soon smile at all other cities, for we have the best, as well as the first electric street car line of Portland. So if my advertisement new to-day.
